A. S. OF E. AT FORDSVILLE.

Large and Enthusiastic Gathering---Important Resolutions Adopted.

Nurrows, Ky., March 21.
Editor HARTFORD REPUBLICAN,

There was a mammoth gathering of people at Fordsville on the 11th, inst., the occasion being the third regular meeting of the County Union of A. S. of E. The people gathered from this and adjoining counties to the number of from 1,200 to 1,500. It was truly a gala day for Fordsville. A large procession was formed near Mitchell's switch, one mile south-east of town and proceeded to town passing through the eastern portion to the northern extremity beyond the Baptist church, thence up Main street to college hall where the business meeting was held. The procession was made up of several four-horse wagons and several hundred persons on horse back one of the wagons carrying a splendid band of music. Leaders of the procession carried appropriately inscribed banners representing different phases of the objects and purposes of the great A. S. of E.

The large and commodious college hall was filled to its utmost capacity during the entire session which was very interesting and enthusiastic throughout. Some very important resolutions were passed. Notable among which was one unanimously passed directing each local union that grows tobacco to appoint a finance or executive committee of three, to the end that sufficient loans may be secured from its own members to enable them to furnish financial aid to members needing same to hold their tobacco until the Lynchburg prices are secured, the local union to have the assistance of County Finance Committee if needed.

OAK GROVE.

March 21.—We are having some pleasant weather for the time of year.

The school at Oak Grove is progressing nicely.

Finis James visited Hartford Saturday and Sunday.

Misses Hetty Ranney, Myrtle and Mary James visited the school at Oak Grove Friday.

Mrs. J. A. King is on the sick list.

Bro. Willis filled his regular appointment at Warren's Mill Sunday.

Mrs. G. W. Martin is on the sick list.

G. C. Hoeker and C. L. Stevens returned to their homes near Deer Lick Saturday and Sunday.

Misses Dale Norman and Blanche Miller visited friends Thursday.

On last Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents Mr. J. W. Martin was united in marriage to Miss Cleva Miller. The bride is the daughter of C. T. Miller and the groom is the son of Esq. G. W. Martin and is one of the county's best young men.

M. S. Shultz, who has been to Evansville with some logs, has returned.

E. A. Sanderfur, of Manda, visited Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Miller Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Loretta Hosey visited the family of Richard James Sunday.

J. J. Jarnagin visited J. N. Embry Sunday.

A. V. Leach and C. D. Barnes visited their homes near Prentiss Saturday.

A. V. Leach and C. L. Stevens attended the burial of S. T. Stevens at Liberty last Thursday.

Prof. A. E. Sanderfur has secured a class in instrumental music at Oak Grove.

Discharged Was Tygrett.

Harry Tygrett, charged with house breaking, was given an examining trial before Judge J. P. Miller Wednesday. After hearing all the evidence offered by the commonwealth a motion to discharge the defendant was sustained. The parties concerned in the matter live at Coffman and all were formerly and part are yet in the employ of the Coal Company there.

Tygrett, who has charge of the mining department of the Company's business, wanted some corn that was locked up and in charge of Al B. Coffman who had been discharged by the company from its employment a few days previous, but had rented the farm on which the barn was located, so he broke the door open and took it. This was understood by Coffman to be in defiance of his rights and against the law of the Commonwealth, so he procured Tygrett's arrest and trial which resulted as before stated.

TEACHERS ASSOCIATION.

Annual Meeting of the Educational Association Will be June 21, 22 and 23.

President M. O. Winfrey, of the Kentucky Educational Association, is actively at work for the success of the next State meeting, which will be held at the Mammoth Cave June 21, 22, 23. He has just sent out his second circular which gives many of the details of the meeting. All railroads offer one and one-third fares and the Green river boats offer one fare for the round trip and the Cave hotel will give a reduced rate of $1.50 a day. The cave agent will also give half rates, which will be $1 for the short route and $1.50 for the long route.

It is expected that, in addition to the largest attendance of Kentucky teachers ever present at a State meeting there will be a large attendance of teachers from other States.

The program which is being prepared will be most elaborate and it is expected that all sections of the State will be represented. However, President Winfrey is seeking the best of talent, regardless of location.

President Winfrey says the watch word of the meeting will be "Normal Schools," and the characteristic feature of the meeting, it is expected, will be the organization of teachers into a federation or union with certain aims.

SCHOOLHOUSES.

March 21.—Rev. E. D. Boggess, Beaver Dam, was in our midst Saturday and Sunday, the guest of P. B. Taylor Saturday for dinner and Saturday night of S. T. Hunter. He came to fill his regular appointment at Equality Sunday.

Theodore Howell, who has been quite ill of erysipelas is better.

Miss Arah Withrow is quite ill of erysipelas.

H. D. Hunt went to Rockport Sunday.

John Withrow is very ill at his home and his recovery is despaired of by his friends.

Born, to the wife, of Fred Boone, a fine girl.

Mrs. Sarah Greer has been quite ill but was better when last heard from.

Born, to the wife, of Ed Cleaver, a girl.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Overton and David Oldham went to Falls of Rough last Wednesday.

Misses Jessie and Bessie Balls have returned home from a two weeks' visit to their sister, Mrs. T. B. Iglesias, Matanzas.

Judge S. L. Fulkerson, Rockport, attended church at Equality Sunday.

Miss Lelia Hunter, who has been quite sick, attended church at Equality Sunday.

Charlie Kimbley went to Central City Tuesday.

FREIGHT CAR FAMINE.

Business Men Are Suffering in Louisville On Account of Scarcity.

Louisville, Ky., March 22.—The freight car famine, which has been giving the railroad trouble in the East and North, has reached Louisville and is being felt here with great force. One business institution yesterday placed an order for between fifteen and twenty cars and was unable to get a single one. Some of the railroads say that they have an insufficient equipment here but that Louisville is in better shape than any other point on the line. Other roads are complaining of the shortage.

The car famine has been felt in the East and North ever since the opening of the very heavy spring traffic, and in many of the big cities the roads have found it impossible to get enough equipment to relieve the situation. Local railroad men attribute the famine to different causes.

LION IN THEATER.

But King of Beasts Became Awful Coward When His Keeper Swore at Him.

Tiffin, Ohio, March 21.—A large lion used in a theatrical performance broke out of his cage in the Noble Theater late last night, causing a stampede among the stage hand and actors. For fully one half hour the king of beasts had the stage to himself before he was subdued and captured.

The curtain had been rung down on the last act and the large audience had left the house in blissful ignorance of the impending danger. This fact alone prevented a fearful panic.

The humorous feature of the recapture of the big brute lay in the fact that his keeper managed to drive him into a corner by adopting the well-known Arabic method of swearing at the beast. The keeper swore in as many languages as he had mastered in his trips about the world, and used some profanity more picturesque than literary in order to cow his leonine majesty.

Notice to Democrats.

In each voting precinct in Ohio county, where a committeeman was not elected in November, the present committeeman of such precinct is directed to call a convention to be held at the voting place therein on Saturday, March 25, 1905, for the purpose of electing a precinct committeeman. All Democrats are urged to attend these conventions on that day and select the most available man for the place in each precinct.

On Monday following, all the newly elected committeeman, together with those elected in November, will meet at the court house in Hartford for the purpose of organizing the county committee and to transact other important business. At this meeting the time and manner of selecting candidates for the various county officers will be fixed. Let us have a full attendance.

JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT

reaches the source of all diseases of the mucous membranes by its action on the vaso-motor system of nerves. Every person who has had la grippe during the last year should take a course of Peruna. No one need expect perfect recovery unless they do so. The grippe has produced catarrhal inflammation of the whole mucous membrane, and good health is impossible until these are restored to a normal condition. This Peruna will do. A great many remedies have been suggested for this condition from time to time, but Peruna appears to be the only remedy that has any substantial value in these cases. It has never failed to give satisfaction during forty years' experience and still occupies the unique position of being the leading (if not the only) specific remedy for the after-effects of la grippe.

Henry Distin, the inventor and maker of all the band instruments for the Henry Distin Manufacturing Co., writes the following from 1411 South Ninth street, Philadelphia, Pa.:

"I had a bad attack of la grippe last December which lasted more than three months, and which left me with catarrh, and several of my friends advised me to try Peruna. I began with a bottle the first week in March and it certainly did me a great deal of good. I was so well satisfied that I purchased another bottle and followed the directions, and can say that it has cured me."—Henry Distin.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

WEALTH OF FARMS.

Their Product For 1904 in the United States worth $4,- 000,000,000.

Astonishing figures are given by P. F. Hennigan, chairman of the transportation committee of the Fruit and Produce Exchange, in a report on the wealth of the farms of the country, says a Boston telegram to the New York Press. In reviewing the increase in farm capital he asserts a conservative estimate would place the amount at $2,000,000,000, and this apart from the changed land values in the last two years.

Mr. Hennigan, who is one of the most prominent business men of the city, says that the wealth of the farmers reduced to figures is nothing short of startling. His report has the endorsement of all the members of the committee, who unite in praising it as a conservative document.

"After a careful estimate of the value of the farm products for 1904," says the report, "made within the census scope, it is safe to say it will amount to $1,000,000,000, after excluding the value of the farm crops fed to livestock, in order to avoid duplication of values. This is 9.65 per cent above the value of 1903, and 31.28 per cent. above that of 1899."

"This unthinkable value, aggregating $2,000,000,000, shows that farms have produced in two years wealth exceeding the output of all the gold mines in the world since Columbus discovered America. This year's product is more than six times the amount of the capital stock of all the national banks; it lacks only three-quarters of a billion of dollars of the value of the manufactures of 1900, less the cost of materials used; is three times the gross earnings from the operations of the railroads, and it is four times the value of all the mineral products of the country."

The year 1904, the report states, kept well up the average of exports of farm products during the time between 1899 and 1903, and amounted to $859,000,000, while the average for five years was nearly $865,000,000.

Eagle Seized Little Girl.

Local Police Officer, St. Louis, Mo.

Recently while a number of children were going home from school a huge eagle swooped down upon them in the street, near the roller mill, seized Lou Reamer's little girl, aged 5 years, and attempted to carry her away. The bird fastened its talons in the child's shoulder and dress and lifted her several feet from the ground, when Frank Blair's son and other boys sprang to the girl's assistance and, grasping her clothing, prevented the bird from carrying her away. The eagle then soared off.

When young Eli's seized the child the bird with its wings struck him in blow on the side of the head and knocked him down. A third of the boy's face is black and blue.

Before the eagle left the attack the boys saw it sailing overhead about 50 feet above the ground, suddenly the bird closed his wings and fell to the earth. The child

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable.

Almost everybody who reads the newspaper is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century, discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

From the Yellow Jacket.

Speaking of paradoxical terms, what's the matter with "Democratic statesmanship?"

We should not be surprised any day to hear of some Democrat asserting that the spot in the sun is the result of Teddy and Booker Washington lunching together.

If the Kansas legislature fails to subdue the oil trust, the old State might try ordering out one of her most reliable cyclones and putting it on the track of the octopus.

It has been truthfully said, "Many girls pass a forty dollar boy with a fifteen cent suit without a notice and smile bewitchingly on a fifteen cent boy clad in a forty dollar suit."

In this country there are, according to the census, fifty-one girls to every forty-nine boys. Yet in spite of the census almost any boy will tell you that there is only one girl.

The recent blizzard was so fierce at Atlanta, Ga., that one woman's mouth was frozen open. That is another argument in favor of keeping the mouth shut. Colonel Bryan, please take notice.

The Senate of the United States appears to be more jealous of its dignity and prerogative than solicitous of the welfare of its country, even in a question involving the arbitration or the peace of the world.

Mr. Bryan says that the Republican majority in the last election was so large that it took away the sting of defeat from the Democrats. Sorter like when a man who gets knocked so flat that he never knows what struck him. See?

HEAD COMBING.

How and When It Occurred Among the "Darkies" During Slave Times.

Many of us can remember the days of slavery, says the Sun-Sentinel, one of the newsiest country weeklies in Kentucky. We can remember the "Uncle" and "Auntie" of the old times and the negro children and it is a pleasant memory; for, with very few exceptions, here in Kentucky the slaves were treated kindly. The negro children in those days were the freest human beings imaginable; they had a better time according to the child idea than the white children. They were not required to attend school and, until they were old enough to work in the fields, they had nothing to do but play. The black mother, as we remember, gave them very little attention; and it was often the case that the father would be a slave on another plantation and they would not see him oftener than once a week. But there was one season in the year when the children would suffer great discomfort, it was about the first of May (sheep shearing time). It was a job to comb the kinky heads of the children and very little of it was done until about the season named. Aunt Cinda had five children, Tom, Charlotte, Harriett, Charlie and Chaney. She belonged to the Ballard family. After the weather began to get warm she would say: "Look-e-here children, I've guyne to com' yo' heads putty soon." After a week or two of continuous threats, and when she was good and ready the trouble would begin. The comb was of the kind used for combing the manes of horses; thick and heavy. She had to catch the children one at a time. She placed the unfortunate between her knees and held him with a vice-like grip, and such terrible screams as that little nig would utter we have never heard since; but it was no use, the combing went on.

Those that went through the ordeal would help to catch the others where they were hid in the barn or ice house or other out of the way places. Frequently it would take several days before the combing would be entirely over. Each head would be twice as large as it was before and look like a brush heap. Aunt Cinda would give admonitions that the heads must be combed every Sunday after that and it would be done for two or three Sundays but that would be the last of it until the next sheep shearing time. How many of our older people white or colored can verify what we have said about "Head Combing" in the old slave time.

It is a remarkable fact that in the days referred to above the two races associated together much more intimately than they do now; they were members of the same churches and the children played together. It is also true that the idea of social equality was not thought of by either race.

ANCIENT TREASURE

Discovered in Burial Mound in the Everglades of Florida.

[P. Myers (Publ.) Press]

Many rare gold and silver trinkets of Spanish make have been found in shell mounds along the coast, particularly at Mound Key, but that a burial mound should be discovered in the wonderful Everglades, that are at present attracting the attention of scientists, is not so much on account of the distance from the coast, but because it is wonderfully strange that such a spot as the new mound discovered in the saw grass south of Lake Okeechobee should have been selected for burial place.

The discoverer of this mound is Mr. Stafford Powers, of Labelle, who was accompanied by William Pool, of the same place. Mr. Powers was in town on Tuesday and showed me many trinkets dug from this mound.

He informs us that Pool and him started into the rich muck lands from South Bay, looking for land high enough to grow garden truck. They had proceeded three quarters of a mile through the saw grass when they were astonished to find a sand mound 100 feet in width. How the sand came there was a mystery, as the deep muck is too soft for any conveyance to travel over it, and it is evident that the sand must have been brought from the shore of Lake Okeechobee.

Upon digging into the mound a few feet the decayed skeletons of many human bodies were discovered, Mr. Powers estimating that there were 200 bodies there. Among those decayed remains of an unknown people were found many mysterious trinkets of gold, silver, copper, glass and bone. Mr. Powers brought some of these relics to town with him and showed them in the Press office. These relics consisted of a piece of cathedral glass, Spanish coins, pearl beads, white and blue glass beads of various designs, enough solid gold beads to form a large necklace, from the size of a pen to that of a pecan nut, one bead representing the head of a dragon; a silver cross over two inches in length, all hand-beaten, several silver shields, large glass beads, some in the shape of hearts, a sickle of hand-beaten silver, with a man's head on the handle, a number of solid gold beads, similar to those found at Mound Key, and a variety of silver articles that are difficult to describe. One of the most perfect articles is a solid silver ring, with Roman letters, engraved on the inside, there being several letters, and then an X, followed by several more letters, and so on around the entire ring. There are also several ornaments made of bone, upon which were carved cranes and parrots, that bore a resemblance to Japanese work. Mr. Powers also has many other articles of silver which he did not bring in. If it was the purpose of the Spanish colonists, or whoever they were, to find a secluded burying ground, they certainly succeeded, for this is the last place in the world that one would think to select for such a purpose.

TALKING OF BEARS.

Hunter Declares Wild Animals are Dangerous Only When Attacked.

"In the Mountains of Wyoming, where I have hunted for years, you can find any kind of savage animal that you get in America except alligators. Grizzlies, black bears and mountain lions are commonly killed there," said Hugh Snively, of Sheridan, Wyo., to a Louisville Herald reporter. "Some of the men that come up these to hunt think that if they stir 100 yards from the camp they must be armed to the teeth for fear of being attacked by a bear or a 'painter' and killed. There's a heap more danger of getting killed on account of leaving your gun at home when you go down to Main street. Some one might shoot you on the street of a big city, but it is dead sure that a bear or a mountain lion will never attack you unless you drive him to it."

"I've hunted through the best districts for big game in this country and I've seen a good many grizzlies, but I've never seen one of them go after a man unless he was cornered or wounded. If you run into a grizzly bear in a lonely place you'll hear a grunt something like that of a mammoth hog, and then there'll be a mighty crushing of underbrush as he makes off in the opposite direction as fast as he can go. All you can generally see of a mountain lion is a tawny streak as he makes off at incredible speed." If he has any intention of going after you it must be his intention to go around the world and catch you in the rear, for if you are standing to the east of him he is sure to go due west.

"Mountain lions in the winter time will follow sleighs at a distance wailing as they go, but there is nothing in that to inspire terror for I don't think they have ever been known to close in on any body. Their terror of human beings is the thing which makes them hard to shoot. In all the time that I have been in the mountains I have never heard of anyone being attacked by a wild animal that has been left strictly alone. But I've known men to be killed even by deer when the brute was driven to desperation.

"Grizzlies are the best game in the world. When you once get their claws up they are savage fighters and the hunter's life is in danger every minute unless he is a good shot and has a steady nerve. If you ever get within reach of the grizzly's paw you are a dead cue. These stories of men killing them with knife or hand-to-hand fights are about as reasonable as it would be to talk of stopping a locomotive by getting in the way of the train. If the fellow gets a chance to deliver one blow it is all over. There was a grizzly up our way that the cowboys called 'Big Ben' who killed about 150 steers before he was finally shot. He would break a steer's neck with one blow and then he would lift him up and carry him off to a secluded place. Grizzlies look awkward, but they are lightning quick in their feet and they can beat any man in a foot race."

An Indisputable SAFE INVESTMENT

The material progress which our country is now, and has been making for the past decade of years, naturally brings to the surface numerous schemes of the "get-rich-quick" character that benefit only the promoters of such, at the expense of innocent investors.

In this age of genuine prosperity with every legitimate business booming, wages high, work in abundance, giving employment to all willing to earn, and products of the farm bring best prices; there is little or no excuse for one not to join the array of money-makers.

The first and safest investment to make is to become a reader of the CINCINNATI ENQUIRER, the greatest and most reliable newspaper in the United States. With the facts, truths and information gleaned from its columns, one may become well qualified to reach out and secure his share of profit that always accrues from investments intelligently made.

STATE NICKNAMES.

Why Peaceful Citizens are Called "Tadpoles," "Bugeaters," and Other Things.

[Denver Republican.]

George Washington delivered an address before the Common Council of New York City in 1784, in which he said:

"I pray that heaven may bestow its choicest blessings on your city; that the devastation of war in which you found it may soon be without a trace; that a well-regulated and beneficial commerce may enrich your citizens, and that your State at present that seat of empire may set such examples of wisdom as shall have a tendency to strengthen the Union."

And from that day to this New York has been known as the Empire State.

Back in early days before America as a nation began to make history, somebody wrote a romance and called it "Las Sergas de Esplandian," and somebody else published it in 1510. In this tale a beautiful pagan queen, called Calafin, living in a kingdom called California, furnished an army of Amazons to Esplandian, Emperor of the Greeks, to aid in defending Constantinople against Eastern infidels. This land of the pagan queen was filled with gold.

Torrez, the explorer of later date, had read and been impressed by this tale. When he sat out upon his expedition of adventure his mind was thrilled at the thought of new riches he was to acquire, and thus he called the land which he discovered on the Pacific Coast California. From that day to this it has been known at the "Golden" state, and its people have been nicknamed "gold hunters."

It is an interesting matter for investigation, this of how the States of the Union came to be called what they are called to-day, the manner in which they acquired their various nicknames, and why their respective citizens are characterized by the more or less odious epithets that cling to them. In other words, why are North Carolinians called "Tar Heels," citizens of Colorado called "Rovers," Indians "Hoosiers" or Missourians "Pukes?"

It is recalling facts in history to answer. In the first place, most of the States which from this Union took their names originally from the stream or mountain that formed a conspicuous feature of the territory and these had been previously named by these Indians.

To Henrietta Maria, wife of Charles I., of England, and daughter of Henry IV., of France, both Maine and Maryland are indebted for their names. The latter is Mary's land. The former was derived from Mayne the name of the patrimonial estate of the French Princess. People of this, the lumber state, are "Foxes," both on account of this animal and because the lives of many were passed the woods. Marylanders are "Crawthumpers," a name applied to lobsters by fishermen.

Massachusetts is the Indian word for "Blue Hills." It is the "Bay" State, because it was once the "Massachusetts Bay Colony," and the people are "Beans" on account of the favorite dish which every one knows is theirs. To say nothing of their knowing considerable more than "beans" is the popular conception.

Michigan is "Lake" State, the people are "Wolverines." Minnesota, the "North Star," on account of the insignia of its seal. Its people are "Gophers," the allusion being to the honeycomb condition of the state due to the numerous small bodies of water.

Mississippi is the "Bayou" State, and its citizens are "Tadpoles." Nebraskians are called "Bugeaters," because a bird so named, and believed to be of evil omen by the rural population, frequents that part of the country. People living in Nevada are "Sage Hens;" in New Hampshire, "Granite Boys;" in Vermont, "Green Mountain Boys;" in South Carolina, "Weasels;" in Virginia, "Beadles;" in Wisconsin, "Suckers." The State is known as the Prairie State on account of its sweeping land.

Just why Indians are called "Hoosiers" is a matter that has not entirely settled. In earlier days the world "hisher" was a common Western term for a bully, and this is offered by some authorities as an explanation of the term Hoosier.

PERIL IN THE HAND-SHAKE.

Nat'l. Long arm Dr. J. N. Hirsch, of Chicago, said: "The most delicate perfume upon the hands is not a sign of freedom from germs, and the most refined are not free from disease of lungs or throat, and the germs are rapidly spread by touching the hand that has handled the handkerchief of one afflicted with cold, catarrh or consumption. The breath one inhales from the lungs of another may contain germs of disease." You will not only be able to resist the germs of consumption, but many thousands of cases have been known where persons who were suffering from incipient phthisis, or the early stages of consumption were absolutely cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It maintains a person's nutrition by enabling him to eat, retain, digest and assimilate food. It overcomes the gastric irritability and symptoms of indigestion, and thus the person is saved from those symptoms of fever, night sweats, headache, etc., which are so distressing.

An alternative extract like Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, made of roots and herbs, without the use of alcohol, will assist the stomach in assimilating or taking up from the food such elements as are required for the blood, will assist the liver in throwing off the poisons in the system. Do not permit some designing druggist to insult your intelligence by offering you a remedy which he claims is "just as good" because he made it up himself, or ten chances to one you will get a medicine made up largely of alcohol, which will only weaken the system.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is heartily recommended by every person who has ever used it and it has stood the test of thirty-eight years of approval from people all over the United States.

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 25 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 35 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Others say that it is the result of a contraction of the question, "Who's ye?"

Iowans, "Drowsy Ones," are Hawkeyes, because an Indian chief of that name once spread terror among travelers name abroad in his land. Kansans have been Jayhawkers since the days of the Civil War, when the guerrilla bands inaugurated a lawless method of warfare. On the other hand, as if to atone for this unpleasant epithet, the state has been dubbed the "Garden of the West," on account of its great productiveness.

Denizens of the land where the blue grass grows, Kentucky, are called "Corn Crackers," because a rail with this peculiar name is the game bird of that region. Sometimes they are called "Red Horses," but nobody seems to know why.

When La Salle entered the Gulf of Mexico, in 1682, he found the fort of St. Louis and named it for Louis XIV. of France, and the surrounding territory he called "Louisiana." The inhabitants of this country originally were French and Spanish settlers, and their descendants even today are called "Creoles."

To Henrietta Maria, wife of Charles I., of England, and daughter of Henry IV., of France, both Maine and Maryland are indebted for their names. The latter is Mary's land. The former was derived from Mayne the name of the patrimonial estate of the French Princess. People of this, the lumber state, are "Foxes," both on account of this animal and because the lives of many were passed the woods. Marylanders are "Crawthumpers," a name applied to lobsters by fishermen.

Massachusetts is the Indian word for "Blue Hills." It is the "Bay" State, because it was once the "Massachusetts Bay Colony," and the people are "Beans" on account of the favorite dish which every one knows is theirs. To say nothing of their knowing considerable more than "beans" is the popular conception.

Michigan is "Lake" State, the people are "Wolverines." Minnesota, the "North Star," on account of the insignia of its seal. Its people are "Gophers," the allusion being to the honeycomb condition of the state due to the numerous small bodies of water.

Mississippi is the "Bayou" State, and its citizens are "Tadpoles." Nebraskians are called "Bugeaters," because a bird so named, and believed to be of evil omen by the rural population, frequents that part of the country. People living in Nevada are "Sage Hens;" in New Hampshire, "Granite Boys;" in Vermont, "Green Mountain Boys;" in South Carolina, "Weasels;" in Virginia, "Beadles;" in Wisconsin, "Suckers." The State is known as the Prairie State on account of its sweeping land.

back to war times, when the people came out of the pines to fight. About the same time Tennesseans were dubbed "Butternuts," on account of the color of the clothes they wore. "Gun Flints," as applied to citizens of Rhode Island goes back to the Dorr rebellion of 1842, when the arms of this old discription were pulled out from the garrets—where they had lain unused for years.

Texas is the "Lone Star" State, because that was admitted into the Union, and is still upon the State seal. "Beefheads," the people are called, since their chief occupation is cattle raising. Alabamians are "Lizards;" people of Florida "Fly-up-the-Creeks;" in Georgia they are "Buzzards;" in Connecticut, "Nutmegs," in Delaware, "Muskrats."

The people in Arkansas are "Toothpicks," which is a playful allusion to the bowie knife that does such good service in that part of the country. An old American ballad says:

Straight way leaped the gallant Fingsby.

Into armor of Seville,
With a strong Arkansas toothpick
Screwed in every joint of steel.

Oregon in the "Webfoot" country because the excessive rains in winter render its climate such as only a webfooted animal can appreciate. The people are called "Hard Case," the explanation to be found in the habits of the early settlers.

The stones of the Rock Creek bridge, at Washington, D. C. are named after the avenues of the city. The name "Pennsylvania" appears on the keystone of the bridge's arch. This fact is cited by some as the explanation of why the State named after the most peaceful of all early American settlers, is called the "Keystone State." But a better explanation is found in the circumstances attending the singing of the Declaration of Independence. Six colonies had cast their vote in the affirmative; six as opposed to the measure. John Morton, representing Pennsylvania, cast the vote that broke that tie, and by so doing he gained for his state the honor of being the "Keystone" in the arch of liberty.

Things You Ought to Know.

A bit of iron can be removed from the eye with a magnet. Never rub the eye when it is affected. If the particle causing the disturbance is on the upper lid, draw out the upper lid. Reverse the action if the dirt is on the lower lid. A grain of flax-seed often takes out a speck of dirt. If tears flow, dry the eye by wiping it gently toward, never away from.

THE above picture of the man and fish is the trademark of Scott's Emulsion, and is the synonym for strength and purity. It is sold in almost all the civilized countries of the globe.

If the cod fish became extinct it would be a world-wide calamity, because the oil that comes from its liver surpasses all other fats in nourishing and life-giving properties. Thirty years ago the proprietors of Scott's Emulsion found a way of preparing cod liver oil so that everyone can take it and get the full value of the oil without the objectionable taste. Scott's Emulsion is the best thing in the world for weak, backward children, thin, delicate people, and all conditions of wasting and lost strength.

the nose. If some one is at hand to help, let him roll the lid over the point of a pencil and remove the speck on a bit of cotton wound about the point of an orange stick or the blunt end of a hairpin.

If a child is injured or stunned by a fall or a blow take him at once to the open air. Lay him flat on his back, the head slightly higher than the body. Put cold water or ice about the head and prepare a hot mustard bath for the feet. If the child remains in a stupor it may be necessary to apply warm water to the body. The same treatment should be given to an adult, though the treatment can be more heroic.

If a child chokes, turn him quickly and not too gently upside down, patting him sharply, but not hard, upon the back. In case of an adult bend the body forward, face downward, and slap smartly upon the back. If the obstacle will not come up, jerk the arms above the head and force patient to hang his weight by his hands. This treatment may start the obstacle downward.

To pack the nose with cotton soaked with lemon juice will relieve nose bleeding. If the bleeding is not too severe a wash of lemon juice will have the desired effect. A small syringe can be used to force the lemon juice into the nose.

One of the quickest emetics is mustard flour and plenty of warm water. The patient should be made to drink cup after cup of warm water until the mustard has produced action.

The easiest way to relieve a fit of fainting is to lay the patient flat upon his back, loosen the clothing, admit plenty of air, using a fan if convenient, and sprinkle the face with cold water.

KUROPATKIN is not a very apt "batter" but he has broken the record as a base runner.

It is significant that Senator Smoot was not urged to address the recent Congress of Mothers.

THE Japanese did not hesitate to take the Russians at their word when they said the war was not over.

KUROPATKIN's tender of his resignation was timely. He wanted to resign while there was yet something to resign from.

IF THE Czar of Russia would send those Grand Dukes over to the battle-line a lot of trouble at home would be avoided.

IF THE Russians continue to retreat northward it may be that they will make some valuable contributions to science in the way of Arctic explorations.

IN VIEW of the fact that a Minnesota Matron is a grandmother at thirty-five, Dr. Uster may change the chloroform period from 60 to a longer period.

Dr. Dowd declares that he can "raise the dead" but as yet he has not done so, probably because the sheriff keeps him busy trying to "raise money."

This new Russian commander is named Nicholas Nichaelaevitch. The Czar should know that it is too late to serve the Japanese with such "jaw-breaking" orthography.

The Indiana Legislature has just passed a law preventing boys under twenty-one years of age from smoking cigarettes. A commendable law which should be the subject of serious thought throughout the country.

Capt. R. J. EWEN, star witness in the Jeff-White trials for the murder of J. B. Mareum, is again in evidence at the hearing of the motion of the Hargiss and company for bail at Lexington, Ky. Capt. Ewen has proven to be a "thorn" that stays long.

The marriage at Lorain, Ohio, of twin brothers to a dashing widow and her daughter and the presumption that in the course of time the two women will become mothers produces a full grown rival for the question "How old is Ann?" What relation will their children be to each other and to each other?

In an interview with a staff correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer Tom White, who is confined in the Covington jail pending the action of the Court of Appeals on his appeal to procure a reversal of a life sentence in the penitentiary for the murder of James B. Mareum, says he is certain that he will not be given a rehearing but will endeavor to get a pardon soon after he is taken to the penitentiary. In the light of the Governor's pardon record Tommie is in line for a pardon if it is thought that his vote is needed in Breathitt.

THE Breckinridge News says: "President Roosevelt's highest ambition is to be like Washington and Lincoln as near as he can. Now if the men who hold the offices in this country and those who are seeking them would emulate Mr. Roosevelt, troubles in our land and country, instead of increasing, would grow less. Emulating President Roosevelt is the highest standard of American manhood and citizenship, to our mind." The President's own words are that he will try to make a good President for all the people, hence of course he is trying to be like Washington and Lincoln.

MAJ. WM. WARNER was elected to the United States Senate from Missouri last Saturday a few moments before the Legislature adjourned sine die. His election broke a deadlock extending through the entire session. Warner was a compromise candidate, the long drawn-out fight having been between Niedringhaus and Kearns leading different factions of the Republicans. Maj. Warner is in perfect accord with the President on the questions of vital interest to the country and his election is therefore especially fortunate. His advent in the Senate will mark the close of an unbroken Democratic representation extending over nearly half a century.

In Memory
Of Miss Grace Park, the youngest daughter of Henry and Hannah Park, of Andersonville, Ky.

Grace was born May 17th, 1878,

Fell asleep February 24th, 1905, age 26 years, 9 months, 7 days. She was one of those lovable creatures that makes this old world better and brighter because of her life. To know her was to love her. She was converted and joined the Methodist church in the year 1902 and lived a faithful Christian until she left us for a brighter and better world.

Grace was always delicate, but she was not tired of life and desired to live if it was God's will. She said to one a few days before the summons came: "I want to be resigned to my Heavenly Father's will," and when the call came for her, she slipped away from us, and she was not, for God took her. Blessed thought, gone to be with the angels; gone to meet Him who redeemed her; gone to live in that city which has foundations, whose builder and maker is God. Thank God, "then we sorrow not, even as others, which have no hope."

Grace leaves this side the river, a father and mother, a sister and two brothers, besides many other relatives and friends who hope to join her, when the sargas cease to roll.

It is true we shall sleep but not forever. There will be glorious dawn. We shall meet to part, no, never, on the resurrection morn. Then, loved ones, think not of her as dead, but asleep. Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep from which none ever wake to weep, but the home is lonely since she went away. How we miss her. She was always ready to take bur-

DOGS OF ALASKA.

They Sometimes Wear Shoes,
Which They Afterwards Eat.

In Alaska even dogs wear shoes at least part of the time. It is not on account of the cold, for a shaggy Eskimo dog will live and be frisky when a man would freeze to death. The dog does all the work of dragging and carrying, which in the country falls to the horses, and in trotting over the rough ice of the mountain passes his feet soon become bruised and sore. Then his master makes him soft little moccasins of buckskin or reindeer skin and ties them on with stout thongs of leather. In this way he will travel easily until his feet are thoroughly healed up. Then he bites and tears his shoes with his sharp, wolf-like teeth and eats them up.

Wonderful animals are these dogs of Alaska. Although they are only little fellows—not more than half the size of a big Newfoundland—they sell from $75 to $200 each, more than an ordinary horse will sell for in this country. They will draw 200 pounds each on a sled, and they are usually driven in teams of six. They need no lines to guide them, for they readily obey the sound of their master's voice, turning or stopping at a word.

But the Eskimo dogs have their faults. Like many boys, they are over fond of having good things to eat. Consequently they have to be watched closely or they will attack and devour stores left in their way, especially bacon, which must be hung out of their reach. At night when camp is pitched the moment a blanket is thrown upon the ground they will run into it and curl up, and neither cuffs nor kicks suffice to budge them. They lie as close to the men who own them as possible, and the miner cannot wrap himself so close that they won't get under the blanket with him. They are human, too, in their disinclination to get out in the morning.

Pleasant and Harmless. Don't drug the stomach to cure a cough. One Minute Cough Cure cuts the mucus, draws the inflammation out of the throat, lungs and bronchial tubes, heals, soothes and cures. A quick cure for Croup and Whooping Cough. Sold by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

GHASTLY STRATEGY.

How Five Japanese Acted as Spies in St. Peters-burg.

Here is a recent story in regard to the system of espionage employed by the Japanese which I find in a letter from St. Petersburg, published in one of the French papers.

It is a vivid picture of what these wonderful soldiers are willing to do in the interest of their country.

Toward the end of 1898 a Japanese from Kiu-Siu arrived in St. Petersburg and opened a tea warehouse on the Nevsky Prospect. Shops of this kind simply swarm in the Russian capitol, but all the same the Japanese prospered exceedingly. In view of the big business he anticipated at the Easter festivities during the following spring the tea merchant got over five of his fellow-countrymen as assistants. These were extremely agreeable, tactful young fellows, who quickly ingratiated themselves with the aristocratic clientele of the shop.

But, despite the prosperity of their business, the Japanese did not seem happy. Their melancholy was noticed, and at last they confessed their secret. They did not in the least mind leaving Japan; they were delighted with Russia. What they did not like was to remain foreigners on the soil of their adopted country. Their dearest wish, they said, was to become naturalized Russians, and to be admitted into the Orthodox Church.

The idea appealed to the aristocratic customers of the tea shop and in due course they were admitted into the Orthodox Church and made Russian citizens.

Shortly after this the five new Russians wanted to get married and found families. Once more their customers interested themselves on their behalf. Brides were found in the shape of pretty young Russian work girls, dowries provided by subscription, and the marriage ceremony duly performed. Time went on, children were born and everything in the various menages seemed to be most satisfactory, when suddenly the war broke out. Two days later the Russian-Japanese teamen had all disappeared, leaving their wives and families behind them in St. Petersburg. St. Petersburg society was flabbergasted. The confidences it had unfortunately imparted to the teamen went to Tokyo in the form of private reports to the Japanese general staff, while the heroes of the story, all Captains or Lieutenants in the Japanese army, went back to their respective regiments.

Toward the end of 1898 a Japanese from Kiu-Siu arrived in St. Petersburg and opened a tea warehouse on the Nevsky Prospect. Shops of this kind simply swarm in the Russian capitol, but all the same the Japanese prospered exceedingly. In view of the big business he anticipated at the Easter festivities during the following spring the tea merchant got over five of his fellow-countrymen as assistants. These were extremely agreeable, tactful young fellows, who quickly ingratiated themselves with the aristocratic clientele of the shop.

But, despite the prosperity of their business, the Japanese did not seem happy. Their melancholy was noticed, and at last they confessed their secret. They did not in the least mind leaving Japan; they were delighted with Russia. What they did not like was to remain foreigners on the soil of their adopted country.

Their dearest wish, they said, was to become naturalized Russians, and to be admitted into the Orthodox Church.

The idea appealed to the aristocratic customers of the tea shop and in due course they were admitted into the Orthodox Church and made Russian citizens.

Shortly after this the five new Russians wanted to get married and found families. Once more their customers interested themselves on their behalf. Brides were found in the shape of pretty young Russian work girls, dowries provided by subscription, and the marriage ceremony duly performed. Time went on, children were born and everything in the various menages seemed to be most satisfactory, when suddenly the war broke out. Two days later the Russian-Japanese teamen had all disappeared, leaving their wives and families behind them in St. Petersburg. St. Petersburg society was flabbergasted. The confidences it had unfortunately imparted to the teamen went to Tokyo in the form of private reports to the Japanese general staff, while the heroes of the story, all Captains or Lieutenants in the Japanese army, went back to their respective regiments.

Good Health to the Children

Children especially are fond of dainties, and the housekeeper must look carefully to their food.

As good cake can be made only with good eggs, so also a cake that is healthful as well as dainty must be raised with a pure and perfect baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder is indispensable in the preparation of the highest quality of food. It imparts that peculiar lightness, sweetness and flavor noticed in the finest cake, biscuit, doughnuts, crusts, etc., and what is more important, renders the food wholesome and agreeable to young and old.

NOTICE.

Orders Ohio County Court, Special Term, March 18th, 1905, Pres. Hon. James P. Miller, Judge.

Jack Smith &c., for motion.

Local option election in the town of Fordsville, Ky.

This cause again coming on for hearing on this March 13th, 1905, exceptions having been filed on the 6th day of March, 1905, it being the regular March term of the Ohio County Court and set down for hearing on this date, and W. S. Gaines by Attorneys Heavrin & Woodward withdrew the exceptions heretofore filed and the following order is now entered as of then, to-wit:

On motion of applicants to have an order made directing that a local option election be held in Fordsville voting precincts on April 15, 1905, and said applicants having this day deposited with the presiding Judge of the Ohio County Court, the sum of $60.00 in money, an amount sufficient to pay for printing or posting advertisements as provided by law, and the fees of the Clerk for making entries in the order book, and the court being sufficiently advised it is ordered and adjudged by the court, that at the last preceding general election in the town of Fordsville there were only 133 votes cast at said election, and that the petition filed herein is signed by 38 legal voters residing in said town of Fordsville, Ohio county, Ky., which is equal to more than 25 per cent of the votes cast in said town at the last preceding general election, and that said petition was received and filed of record at the regular term of the Ohio County Court February 6th, 1905, to take the sense of the legal voters of said town, who are qualified to vote for county officers, upon the question: "Whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall be sold, bartered, loaned or trafficked in, in said town of Fordsville, Ohio county, Ky., and that Cal. P. Keown, Sheriff of Ohio county, is ordered and directed to hold said election.

He will open a poll at the voting places in said town on said date for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal voters of said town who are qualified to vote at elections for county officers, upon the proposition whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall be sold, bartered, loaned or trafficked in, in the town of Fordsville, Ohio county, Ky., and that Cal. P. Keown, Sheriff of Ohio county, is ordered and directed to hold said election.

He will open a poll at the voting places in said town on said date for the purpose of taking the sense of the legal voters of said town who are qualified to vote at elections for county officers, upon the proposition whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall be sold, bartered, loaned or trafficked in, in the town of Fordsville, Ohio county, Ky., and that Cal. P. Keown, Sheriff of Ohio county, is ordered and directed to hold said election.

It is further ordered and adjudged by the court that a special registration be held in each of the precincts in the said town of Fordsville, Ohio county, Kentucky, a town of the sixth class, on Saturday, April the 8th, 1905, for the registration of those persons entitled to vote, at the special election to be held on April 15th, 1905, whose names have not been recorded on the registration books of that year; and said registration shall be advertised or published in like manner as the time and place of said local option election as required to be published.

A copy attest:

M. S. RAGLAND, C. O. C. C.
By U. G. RAGLAND, D. C.

Pursuant to the foregoing order and judgment of the Ohio County Court, I will on Saturday, April 15, 1905, cause a poll to be opened us and in the manner required by law at each and all the voting places in the town of Fordsville, Ohio county, Kentucky, to take the sense of the legal voters of said town, qualified to vote for county officers, upon the proposition "Whether or not spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall be sold, bartered, loaned or trafficked in, in the said town of Fordsville, Ohio county, Kentucky?" Given under my hand as Sheriff of Ohio county, Kentucky, this the 22nd day of March, 1905.

Spring Goods.

The Red Sale is a thing of the past. It was a success. It was all that we hoped for. We hoped to open the eyes of many, but little did we think that it would provoke the inquiry which it did. It all but swept the country. It even went so far as to excite some of the legal lights of Hartford, who seemed to think that we could not possibly offer such bargains without making an assignment and going out of business.

But We Are Still Here.

Here to stay, with just as big bargains as ever. We are again before you with the most complete line of Spring Clothing, the most elegant line of Spring Dress Goods, and the most complete and useful line of Shoes, Oxfords, Hats and Haberdashery that we have ever placed before the public. All of the newest weaves and smartest styles are here. They constitute an enticing array of the latest things in these especial lines—things to make you look elegant and appear at your best.
